Our processes are suitable for the reproduction of all classes of Art, Scientific and Commercial Work, the price varying according to the process used.

Whilst Photo-gelatine printing is marked by the delicacy of its results, the characteristic feature of Photo-gravure is its strength and richness. Where price is an object, we furnish editions from Half-tone Blocks but we do not furnish the blocks themselves, as we find that success in this process depends as much on the printing as on the block.

Our Gallery is fitted to produce negatives of all sizes up to 24" x 30" by the best ortho-chromatic methods.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY
FOR 1892.

A culture that lacks science is a one-sided culture.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY is the one periodical that gives access to the scientific culture of the time, and it will in the future represent scientific thought and achievement even more fully than it has in the past.

Volumes XL and XLI. The valuable series of illustrated articles on

THE DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICAN INDUSTRIES SINCE COLUMBUS,
now running in the MONTHLY, will be continued into the coming year. There have already been published three articles on The Woolen Manufacture, by S. N. D. NORTH; four articles on The Making of Iron and two on The Making of Steel, by W. F. DUFFEE. The first of two articles on American Pottery appears in the December number. All of these are profusely illustrated; and similar papers on The Cotton Manufacture, by EDWARD ATKINSON and Gen. W. F. DRAPE; Piano-Making, by DANIEL SPILLANE; Glass-Making, by Prof. C. HANFORD HENDERSON; and on The Leather, Silk, Paper, Agricultural Machinery, and Ship-building Industries will appear in course.

Hon. CARROLL D. WRIGHT will continue his incisive Lessons from the Census. Dr. ANDREW D. WHITE will contribute some concluding papers on The Warfare of Science, and there will be occasional articles from Hon. DAVID A. WELLS and DAVID STARR JORDAN, President of Stanford University.

The other contents of the coming number can not be definitely announced at this time, but the character of the contributions may be inferred from

SOME OF THE ARTICLES OF THE PAST YEAR.

THE STORAGE OF ELECTRICITY (Illustrated), Prof. Samuel Sheldon.	OUR AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS, Prof. C. L. Parsons.
THE DECLINE OF RURAL NEW ENGLAND, Prof. A. N. Currier.	THE COLORS OF LETTERS, President David Starr Jordan.
CULTIVATION OF SISAL IN THE BAHAMAS (Illustrated), J. I. Yorthrop, Ph.D.	DRESS AND ADORNMENT (Illustrated), Prof. Frederick Starr. Four articles.
KOCH'S METHOD OF TREATING CONSUMPTION, G. A. Heron, M.D.	PROFESSOR HUXLEY AND THE SWINE MIRACLE, W. E. Gladstone.
STREET-CLEANING IN LARGE CITIES, Gen. Emmons Clark.	ILLUSTRATIONS OF MR. GLADSTONE'S CONTROVERSIAL METHOD, Prof. T. H. Huxley.
PROFESSOR HUXLEY ON THE WAR-PATH, The Duke of Argyll.	THE DOCTRINE OF EVOLUTION, John Fiske.
SKETCHES OF DANIEL G. BRINTON (with Portrait), G. C. Abbott.	LIMITS OF STATE DUTIES, Herbert Spencer.
SOME GAMES OF THE ZUNI (Illustrated), John G. Owens.	UNIVERSITY EXTENSION, Prof. C. Hanford Henderson.
	SOME OF THE POSSIBILITIES OF ECONOMIC BOTANY, Prof. G. L. Goodale.

Twenty years ago our first number was issued with the following statement: "THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY has been started to help on the work of sound public education, by supplying instructive articles on the leading subjects of scientific inquiry. It will contain papers, original and selected, on a wide range of subjects, from the ablest scientific men of different countries, explaining their views to non-scientific people." This task has grown larger and more important with the continual growth of science, and the scope and resources of the MONTHLY have been correspondingly widened. No pains will be spared for its adequate performance in the future.

THE CENTURY DICTIONARY

which the publishers of "The Century Magazine" have labored ten years to produce, is now completed. As the latest comer among the dictionaries it has been able to avoid the errors into which its predecessors have fallen, and to include much that they have omitted—new words and meanings which have but recently come into general use. In its preparation the leading scholars of the country have been employed. The aid of specialists in the various departments of the arts and sciences has also been sought in order that technical words might be defined by those who were practically familiar with the subjects and operations described. The Dictionary contains definitions of two hundred-and-fifty thousand words, a larger number than was ever before catalogued in an English dictionary. These definitions it supplements with valuable comments and explanations to such an extent that for brief reference the work answers every purpose of an encyclopedia. The illustrations, which number eight thousand, have also been selected with a view to giving the reader a better understanding of the definitions, and have been drawn and engraved under the supervision of the Art Department of "The Century Magazine."

No one should purchase a dictionary without first examining THE CENTURY. Whether one intends to purchase or not, he will be interested in the large illustrated pamphlet (containing a description of the work, sample pages, etc.) which the publishers of the Dictionary have prepared, and which will be sent, postpaid, to any address upon receipt of five two-cent stamps.

Gobelin Flax Tapestries

Under this name I have recently introduced into the American market a new textile fabric for wall covering, suitable for Halls, Dining-rooms, Libraries, Art Galleries, Parlors, etc. The Gobelin Flax Tapestries are very durable and can be pasted on like ordinary wall-paper.

A great variety of patterns are manufactured in the different styles—Rococo, French, Italian, Spanish and German Renaissance, Gothic, Heraldic, Henry II., Louis XIV., Moorish, Persian, etc., besides a large assortment of the most esthetic modern designs. The peculiar texture of the fabric produces an irregular grain of Gobelin effect which cannot be obtained on any other texture. This is the only fabric which shows the grain below the transparent coloring.

Prices are not much higher than those of fine embossed wall-papers.
